

PRESERVED DATES WITH PEACHES WIN WIFE SEPARATION

Every Time Hubby Went
With Actress, Mrs. James
Put It on Calendar.

Supreme Court Justice Newburger saved Miss Josephine James, a beautiful girl of eighteen years, the embarrassment of testifying against her father, Frederick K. James, owner of a chain of drug stores, and brought to an abrupt end to-day, the suit for separation instituted by Mrs. Jennie May James against James.

Miss James, who sat beside her mother in the courtroom, was sad of face, evidently ill at ease, when F. M. Tichenor, counsel for Mrs. James, called her to the stand. Justice Newburger was quick to grasp the situation.

"Is there no way out of this?" asked the Justice, summoning the lawyers to his side.

There was a whispered conversation for nearly half an hour, after which Justice Newburger announced he would sign a decree of separation in favor of Mrs. James without hearing further testimony.

"In doing this," he added, "I hope the separation will only be temporary. I would impress upon the plaintiff (Mrs. James) that she must permit the children to call upon their father as often as they wish."

Miss Josephine's big, bluish-gray eyes brightened and she turned to her brother, Burton, two years her senior, in apparent relief.

"Oh," she said, "I'm so happy it's all over now. It would have been a terrible thing for me to go on the stand and I am grateful to the Judge."

ACTRESS'S SILVER IN HIS APARTMENT CAUSED BREACH.

Mrs. James, a stylishly dressed, good looking woman of middle age, was on the stand during the forenoon. She told of her marriage to the drug store man in 1907, and of having lived with him very happily for fifteen years. Then, she said, they separated by a private agreement. Later, however, there was a reconciliation and the couple lived together again until recently. The final breach came when Mrs. James discovered her husband's apartment, in Manhattan avenue, was supplied with silver initialed "O. E. J.", which belonged to an actress. Then, too, Mrs. James said, her husband took possession of the only breast bed in the apartment, while he ordered a Davenport for her.

"Did Mr. James ever speak to you about going to Reno, Nev., and getting a divorce from him?" was asked.

"Yes," replied Mrs. James. "He said if I would go out there and get a divorce he would pay all the expenses. I refused to do so."

Later, she said, James again urged her to go to Reno, but she told him she would "stand pat" on her first answer to him.

Mrs. James declared she had been "keeping tabs" on her husband since she returned to him after their first break.

"I show you this sheet of the calendar, containing the month of June, 1913," said one of the lawyers, "and ask you, Mr. James, to tell me the meaning of these pencil marks on various days of the month. For instance, what does the pencil mark on June 1 mean?"

"It means 'home,'" answered Mrs. James. "It means that Mr. James was home that night."

"Well, when you began making those notations on the calendar, did you do so with the advice of your lawyer?"

"No, I had my own private reasons for doing so."

ONE EMPLOYED DETECTIVES TO WATCH HUSBAND.

There were half a dozen notations during June, 1913, shortly after the couple became reconciled, which indi-

MISS JOSEPHINE JAMES.

Miss Josephine James had remained away from home all night.

"Finally, when you parted the second time, did you continue to 'keep tabs' on your husband?" was asked.

"Yes," I employed detectives to see what he was doing."

Last summer, she said, James spent much of his time in the company of the actress, whose silver he was using in his home.

"Did you see them together?"

"Yes, I saw them walking together at Baldwin, Long Island. The woman had a cottage there, and Mr. James was there a great deal."

When the case came to an end to-day it was announced James had agreed to continue the payment of $30 weekly alimony to his wife. This was the amount granted Mrs. James by the Court when she first began her suit for separation.

TOBACCO SMOKE OVERCOMES MANY AT EAST SIDE FIRE

Police and Firemen Rescue
Women and Children as Warehouse Burns.

Great clouds of acrid smoke from a fire in the tobacco store and warehouse of M. Miller, No. 60 and 62 Rutgers street, routed hundreds of men, women and children from the six-story double tenement house at that address early to-day, where firemen and policemen made many thrilling rescues. The damage was estimated at $2,500, but at one time the fire threatened to spread through the building.

Apparently the blaze had been burning some time before Patrolman Barre was attracted by the tobacco smoke, and turned in an alarm. Lieut. Robert McNaught came with the reserves from the Madison street station.

The firemen found the ground floor ablaze. Soon the flames got down into the basement warehouse of the tobacco dealer and up to the first floor, where he has living rooms. The smoke went up through the halls and into adjoining six-story tenement houses, and the police found men, women and children on fire-escapes and roofs throughout the neighborhood.

Patrolman Wind found the family of Michael Kuku, saloon keeper, on the third floor in No. 60-62 Rutgers street, unable to help themselves, and he carried Mrs. Annie Kuku and Hilda, a daughter, eleven years old, down to the street. The woman and girl had been overcome by smoke. Kuku is an invalid, but he refused to permit the policemen to remove him from the room.

"I can't walk, and won't let you haul me out," he said. "I'll stay right here. But the firemen and police kept watch over him."

Cast. Jolly of Hook and Ladder Company No. 6, in Canal and Allen street, with his men, carried out many women and children ill from the effects of the smoke. The new auto truck under Capt. Jolly's command made the run to the fire in two minutes, and his men were first to go through the building after the policemen roused the tenants.

The flames kept the fire in the lower floors. The barber shop of S. Barno, on the ground floor, was flame-swept. Miller, the tobacco man, was not at home.

Two men who described themselves as James Hefferman, eighteen years old, of No. 314 Cherry street, and Henry Cohen, of No. 230 Cherry street, were arrested by Patrolman Cummings on a charge of disorderly conduct after they had broken through the fire lines.

Many of the women remained on the tenement house roofs until the smoke had cleared away. Policemen stationed on the roofs kept order among the tenants.

THE COMB'S MORNING STORY

You know the story the comb tells. It's a very discouraging story, too.

Day by day, a few more strands are added, of hair that is turning grey, losing its vitality, its strength and its health.

Grey hair is as unbecoming as old age. Natural pride should have its own say. You wish to look young and it is your DUTY to appear so. You can't even LOOK young if the silver threads begin to show.

Be a "Young Woman" in looks, always. The grey hairs stand to the chaperon and to the grandmother.

Stay out of the grandmother class, until your years justify it, by using—

HURT ON MOTORBOAT.

Man Falls Over Engine and is Badly Injured.

(Special to The Evening World.) ATLANTIC CITY, N. J., June 18.—William Magill, proprietor of the Hotel Magill, at Atlantic City and Florida avenues, and one of the Kuehnle leaders in the Fourth Ward, was probably fatally injured this morning when he fell on the engine of his motorboat while speeding in the thoroughfare back of Ventnor City. He was horribly cut about the abdomen and seems to be hurt internally.

Magill was making over twenty miles when he tripped over the bottom boards and dropped backward on the whirling motor. Bleeding profusely, but still conscious, he signalled for an hour before he was sighted. Policeman Conover went to his assistance. The injured man was placed in the automobile truck of the Ventnor Fire Department, which clamped up the avenue at a forty-mile clip, with Conover holding Magill in his arms.

GIFT JEWELRY

For All Occasions at LAMBERTS

Seasonable jewelry gifts are now on view at Lamberts. All who look for appropriate, guaranteed presents for smart boys and girls in graduating classes, for brides or for friends about to go abroad, will find them here. There is no need to waste time looking over gold and diamond jewelry, watches and silverware that are not what you want or are unreasonably high in price.

We please your taste, be it ever so critical. We save you money, no matter what you spend. As we manufacture largely, we give you original designs in Diamond and Solid Gold Jewelry, and always at factory prices.

First the Engagement Rings

Diamonds we import direct and the rings we make by hand of solid 14-karat or solid 18-karat gold or platinum in our own factory. The cutters of whom we buy in Europe know that we are exacting customers, content only with diamonds of fine color and cutting. But as our orders are large and our payments spot cash we get high-quality diamonds and at the lowest possible prices and so undersell jewelers who do not enjoy our advantages. For example these Solitaire Diamond Engagement Rings 14 1/2 14 karat gold, hand made mountings.

14 karat... $85.00	14 karat... $80.00	14 karat... $75.00	14 karat... $185.00
---------------------	---------------------	---------------------	----------------------

Other styles, hand-made mountings of solid 14-karat and 18-karat-gold and platinum, $10.00 to $1,500.00.

Then the Wedding Rings

Next after the Engagement Ring logically comes the Lambert Solitaire Solid Gold Wedding Ring, with a fame which had its beginning in 1877. Every shape and style; all guaranteed; no charge for engraving.

14 karat... 4.40	14 karat... 6.80	14 karat... 8.80	14 karat... 9.80
18 karat... 5.50	18 karat... 8.10	18 karat... 10.80	18 karat... 12.15
